Sri Venkatraman or Sri violin Venkat as he is known, learnt carnatic music both vocal and violin from Smt Savithri Satyamurthy, a well-known performer and teacher of yesteryears who was from the lineage of Ariyakudi Ramanuja Iyengar and Dr. S. Ramanathan.
Sri Venkat also learnt Hindustani music and several Marathi abhangs due to his upbringing in Bombay.
Sri Venkat has given vocal Carnatic performances in India during the December Music Festival in Chennai. He has also sung for several dance arangetrams for students of reputed dance teachers in the US and for his daughter Chinmayee's dance programs. He scored the music for a theatre production in Marathi on the life history of Saint Jnaneshwar staged in Dallas. He acted as Saint Thyagaraja along with his wife Smt Vijayashree and Chinmayee in a operatic production called Sands of Tiruvayaru.
As a violinist, Venkat Ji has accompanied several artistes in the US and those visiting from India and has also played for dance arangetrams.
He has given vocal Carnatic performances in India during the December Music Festival in Chennai that were reviewed in the newspaper "The Hindu". He has composed several bhajans and set to tune many abhangs in the traditional Marathi style of singing.
Sri Venkat has conducted bhajan workshops at retreats. In conjunction with Karya Siddhi Hanuman Temple, Venkat coordinated a program, with several local music teachers and music students locally and around the country, in the rendering of Sri Sri Ganapathi Sachidananda Swamiji's unique Swaradevata and Swarakshara kritis in HIS holy presence.
Sri Venkat lives with his family in Dallas and teaches vocal music and classical violin to children and adults.

Ganesh Devarajan hails from a South Indian musical family. He has been teaching Mridangam in the DFW metroplex since 1991 apart from accompanying local and Indian professional musicians. Ganesh also accompanies dance arengetrams and performances on a regular basis. Several students of Ganesh have been supporting local vocalists, music and dance school performances and arengetrams in the DFW metroplex. All this has been possible for Ganesh because of his three excellent Gurus: Thiruvananthapuram Sri Krishna Iyengar, Madurai Sri Venkatakrishnan and Bangalore Sri Kesavan.

With a sound Carnatic musical background combined with an in depth knowledge of Mridangam, Ganesh is able to teach nuances that are required to be a successful accompanist for vocalists and dance performers.

Ganesh currently resides in Plano, TX. He is keen on encouraging the music talents, culture and interests of potential students. Ganesh offers different levels of mridangam classes for aspiring students.
